THE 1953

RAVELINGS

Another year has passed at Monmouth, and with its passing we start the celebration and anniversary of the hundredth year of Monmouth College. A hundred years of education and progress have marked the history of the college. Students and instructors from almost all the nations in the world have been a part of Monmouth College at one time or another.

This year also marks another event at Monmouth College, the retirement of Dr. Grier. Dr. Grier has been a vital part of the college during his reign as president, and his absence will be deeply felt by all those connected with the school. To Dr. Grier we owe much that can never be repaid with material things. However, we wish to show our thanks and appreciation for all that he has done by dedicating this 1953 Ravelings to him.

Administration

Monmouth College looks to its faculty members with pride. A competent group, covering a broad field of knowledge, they are daily working to convey to the students what they have learned through experience. Each chosen for his abilities and integrity, the members of the faculty command the respect and friendship of the students. A genuine interest in the student body and cooperation on administrative problems helps to make college life profitable for all concerned.

Dr. James Grier

This year draws to a close the career of Dr. James Grier as president of Monmouth College. Dr. Grier is held in high esteem by all connected with the college for his abilities and personal interest in the individual. His smile and friendly greetings are familiar to all as he takes an active part in college life. Certainly Monmouth College will hold Dr. Grier in its memory for the years to come as a president of campus-wide popularity and a man of deep integrity.

DEAN HUGH R. BEVERIDGE

The past year has marked the first as Dean of the college for Dr. Beveridge, who assumed the late Dean Cleland's duties at the beginning of the fall semester. Scholastic and regulative factors under his guidance have been smoothly administered and Dr. Beveridge has been able to put his knowledge of campus problems and solutions to use. He also teaches several math classes in addition to his duties as Dean and is taking an active part in the workings of the Centennial Committee.

The Scots are busy with many activities in addition to their studies. Pictured here are the Scots at play, laughing together and combining their talents. The polescrap, a muddy battle to the finish, leaves the victor just as splattered as the loser. Gracie's Show and the May Fete are only two examples of M. C. talent at its best. Surely the activities featured here portray the Scots in many phases of college life that will remain the brightest in college memories.

Time to move up again.

Climaxing the many events of Freshman Week was the traditional Walkout, sponsored by the "Y" for the purpose of acquainting the freshmen both with members of their own class and with those of the upperclasses. Starting out with a snake dance down Broadway, the freshmen soon found themselves being dragged through the city jail, the theaters, the fraternity houses, and the women's dormitories. The evening ended with a pep rally around a huge bonfire followed by a dance on the tennis courts.

In the preceding week the usual church socials, "Y" mixers, sock dances, and fra ternity smokers and open houses had combined with the county Prime Beef Festiva to really give the Frosh a whirlwind of social activities.

FRESHMAN WEEK

No 7:40's or Saturday classes please.

Bewilderment, boredom, and fascination.

REGISTRATION

Conferences, counselors, catalogues, class cards, and checks—no wonder your fountain pen is dry by the time all those forms are filled out. Registration and last minute schedule changes went on as usual with the freshmen hoping avidly that some forgotten alumnus would turn up with a donation of plush-bottom chairs for the long waiting line on the third floor of Wallace Hall.

Question of the week: "What line are you in?"

POLESCRAP

Bloody noses, axle grease, mud, cold water, and lost pants bring back memories of last October's Polescrap. The freshman failed again in their endeavors to obtain the sophomore colors and had to square their plaid hats for another month

'he latest fashion seems to be mud, broken teeth, and, adhesive tape girdles.

STILL SALLES

Although it rained all day Saturday, there was still a large crowd at the Homecoming Dance held in the college gymnasium; and everyone enjoyed talking to the alumni who were sporting their college spirit as usual.

Complete with catchy tunes, beautiful costumes, and rhythmic dances, "Up 'n Atom" was the title of one of the most extravagant revues Gracie had ever produced. Stewart Riley again turned out some professional scene designs and constructions, especially in the black light sequence, "Congo Drums."

Irving Berlin songs were featured in the opening chorus followed by a group of "Midwest" numbers in front of a Grant Wood background; "April in Paris" followed next, celebrating the 2000th anniversary of that city. The highlight of the evening was the crowning of Lyle Hoover and Sydney Shepherdson as king and queen of the "Mardi Gras."

CRIMSON MASQUE

Winkie Wilmot and Marjorie Brown seem very perplexed in this scene from Craig's Wife.

Crimson Masque completed another successful season last year with the freshmen production of Stage Door and three one-act plays, two of which were written by Howard Gongwer, director of the dramatics department. At the annual installation banquet the following awards were given: Best actress award to Winkie Wilmot, best actor award to Jim Olesen, and most contribution award to Betty Jacobs.

The fall season opened with G. B. Shaw's rollicking comedy, Arms and the Man, with Barbara Cook, Henry McNally, and Jim Olesen heading a fine cast. Masque members provided their audiences with something new and different in their "theater-in-the-round" presentation of Craig's Wife which followed in November; Winkie Wilmot and Jim Mechem shared the staring honors.

This spring, in an effort to uncover some freshman talent, Crimson Masque is again presenting an all freshman play. The production this year is to be The Great Big Door Step by Frances Goodrich and Albert Hackett. Winkie Wilmot will direct the play and the members of Dramatics 136 will carry out the staging and publicity ends of the production. The cast will include Shirley Johnson, Diana Trembly, Danna O'Grady, Nancy Braden, Sue Watson, Todd McKellar, Milton Whiteman, Joan Phifer, Buzz Whowell, and Margaret Ralston.

For their fourth major production Crimson Masque collaborated with Pi Alpha Nu music fraternity to present Monmouth's first musical comedy, The Bandmaster, by Shores and Cohn. With fifteen sparkling songs, sweeping dances, and a cast of forty, The Bandmaster marked a milestone in Masque productions. Bob Spirakes and Jim Olesen in their comedy roles and Virginia Hansen and Bud Olson as the romantic leads will be remembered for their fine performances. Bob Johnson and Marian Prugh of Pi Alpha Nu were the musical directors, Margaret J. Johnson was the choreographer, and Howard Gongwer and Winkie Wilmot were the dramatic directors. Townspeople and students equally enjoyed the witty lines and gay, moving music and all are looking forward to the establishment of a musical comedy as a new Monmouth tradition.

The final performance of The Bandmaster was given before a capacity crowd at the Monmouth college theater, and among those who enjoyed the show were the authors of the musical comedy, Richard Shores and Stewart Cohn. Both Mr. Cohn and Mr. Shores were impressed with the Monmouth production and each commented that in many respects it was superior to the Indiana University performance of two years ago. In fact The Bandmaster was such a success that sometime in April the entire east will travel to Washington, Iowa for a single performance.

MAY FETE

Winkie Wilmot narrates for the May Fete.

The procession of the Chancellor and May Queen of 1950, the Chancellor and May Queen of 1951, and the 1951 May Court from Wallace Hall to the gymnasium commenced the Monmouth College annual May Fete. The program, presented by the Concert Band and Orchesis, a modern dance group, centered around a battle of the seasons for its theme. "Stormy Weather" and "Spring," danced by Lou Brown and Margaret J. Johnson, were pushed back by "Sleigh Ride" and "Winter," danced by Gennie Gould and Mrs. Bernadine Mings. The question of who should be victorious, Spring or Winter, was taken to many countries for their opinions. The final vote made Spring the winner of the contest, so Ray Timmons and Jeanne Black, 1950 Chancellor and Queen of Winter, bowed out to Bob Anderson and Edy Schmucker, 1951 Chancellor and Queen of Spring, whom they crowned.

While this battle of the seasons was being waged, a battle with the weather was actually taking place—rain forced half of the program to be given inside the gymnasium. Theta Chi fraternity, winner of the Interfraternity Sing, sang next on the program which ended with the traditional May Pole dance.

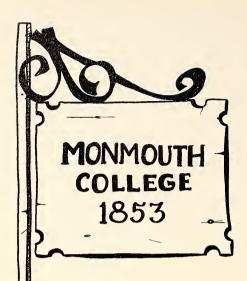

The May Court consisted of Joyce Beaumont, Imy Gardner, Donna Neiman, Lorna Stevenson, Bob Behm, Don Grey, Lynn Jenks, and Channing Pratt. General chairman of the Fete was Margaret J. Johnson, director was Mrs. Bernadine Mings, the band was under the direction of Mr. Heimo Loya, and the narrator was Winkie Wilmot.

Each year Monmouth looks forward to the annual production of the May Fete and enjoys the traditional ceremonies and entertainment. Each year too, the job of preparing the May Fete falls to the Modern Dance group and others whom they can inlist for aid. Through their efforts the May Fete is presented for us to see and enjoy. This year all concerned are hoping for a little more aid from the weather man as they again present the May Fete.

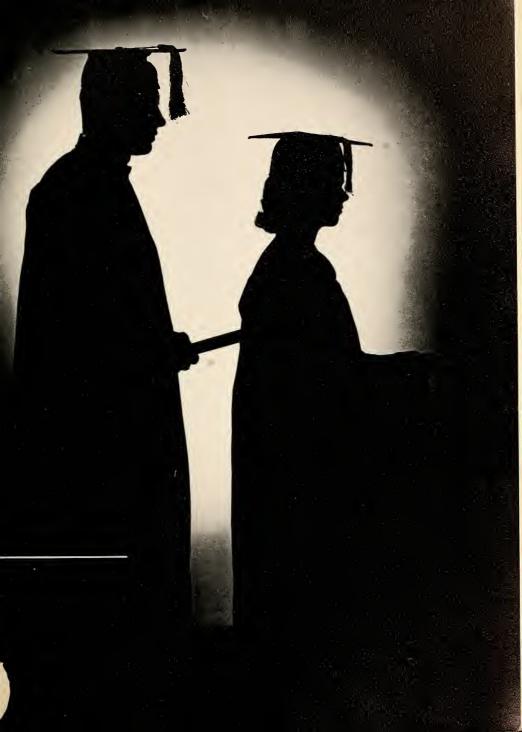

Mrs. Mings and Jenny Gould in an interpretation.

Classes

Here are presented the Monmouth College students as we see them in the centennial year. The freshmen, becoming accustomed to college life; the sophomores, well situated now, but still learning; the juniors, finding the new enjoyment in becoming upper-classmen; and the seniors, superior in knowledge and enriching experiences. Spreading the friendship of Monmouth College to all the places so special in college life, the students are seen laughing together, cheering together, and working together. Pictured here are the links in the chain of companionship that will bind the happy memories of college days.

Senior Class Officers: Olson, Gray, Miller, Whitman, Olesen.

SENIOR CLASS

When you look at it from the beginning it looks like a long, long stretch. From Queen Victoria to that seminar course. From the balcony to the center section downstairs. From that first hesitant Freshman speech to the glib dialogue of the Senior day skit. Four years — fourteen hundred and sixty days. That's how it looks from the beginning.

From this end, it's a different picture. You wonder "Where did the time go!" Surely it was just a year or so ago that you had to be in at 7:30 every night, and the words "Freshman women will be allowed out" were like a governor's reprieve. It couldn't be more than a few weeks since the campus went wild over "Cigarettes in the Union." And those eleven o'clocks — why they've only been going on for a couple of months at the most.

And yet, strange as it seems, it has been four years. And there's that BA waiting for you and outside, down highway 34, is the whole wide world.

And to think that way back in your sophomore year you thought the day would never come. Oh sure, you're glad to get out. But still, you sort of wonder, where did the time go?

JUNIOR CLASS

The junior class is in the in-between stage. No longer are the good old days at high school recent memories. No, there aren't many here who can remember calling the juniors the "Wee Scots." And already they've left the ranks of sophomoreship (the girls leaving behind the fond nickname of "rowdy McMike"), Much to the senior's amazement they can call themselves juniors at last. Yet still they're unsettled and haven't made all their plans for conquering the world. Still hoping to get into medical school, seminary, teaching, — well, at least to graduate someday. Unsettled though they may be, and perhaps, not yet so dignified, as all might wish, the juniors have proved to the world that they can accept responsibility.

The junior class was well represented in campus activities this year with top positions on the Oracle, the Ravelings, freshman regulations committee, the "Y", and in major sports. Barby Williamson represented the class during Homecoming activities.

Yes, modestly, and yet with a gleam of pride in their eyes, the juniors hold up their heads and say that they have had a part in helping to build traditions of the school, and feel themselves worthy of being the hundredth class to graduate from Monmouth College.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

Fall splashed in as the usual dandy weather highlighted the return of suntanned individuals professing to be lower upper-classmen of Monmouth College.

The slight tint of green had vanished from their faces, along with freshman hats, "gallery" seats, and regulation committees. Yes, things were different. Sophomores now!

With one year checked off of the M. C. calendars, they realized their responsibilities had increased. Being of sound mind and body, the sophomores fulfilled their first task when they defeated the undisciplined Frosh at the traditional Cromagnon men "polescrap."

Then the rains came, along with alumni, floats, the smashing of the Coehawks, and the Homecoming Dance. However, the elements could not keep the sophomore class down, as they marched, with umbrellas in hand, out into the down-pour to see Jane Seidel, their contribution to the Queen's Court.

Time flew by . . . before you knew it, femmes were making a desperate attempt to rejuvinate spring wardrobes, and the men, as usual, amour! More work by the able ones of '54 was evident when the spring formal emerged a success.

FRESHMAN CLASS

In among your first collection of celluloid bids from Monmouth formals there is the inevitable snapshot "me in my Freshman Hat." It took quite a while for you to get rid of it even though you tried numerous times to forget the little Scotch cap. If you can't recall how you weren't exactly a model class for freshmen regulations, there are many upperclassmen who would very willingly remind you.

Before winter moons came, Freshmen were leading the school in the purchasing of those newest and shrewdest of college adornments, "white bucks." College life began to agree with you, and you gained a new independent feeling. All the repose of home was yours, despite the slight change of television for plumbing facilities in Fulton Hall.

Your aim was to stay away from that green look; indulging and participating in all campus activities was the answer. A good start was made by selecting Maggie Ramsdale as your representative to the queen's court. Pete Kovacs began taking honors in basketball while Bill George and Keith Droste were busy breaking records at the local swimming hole.

One balmy day in history class, your stray glance settled on a small green leaf just outside of the window. By now, you were a quick witted collegian and you knew, somehow, that spring was here . . . and here, too, was the end of the first year you were given to walk alone. A few stumbles, a few scratched knees happened along the way but you're still alive and growing to like it more everyday.

Activities

Monmouth College offers a well-rounded program of activities to its students. An aptitude in many fields of interest may find release among the existing clubs. For those who have only an interest in certain activities, there is a place in a corresponding group. For those outstanding in these fields of interest, there are honorary organizations. Sports, dramatics, music and art may all find an outlet at Monmouth.

of the Student Council, belongs the credit for guiding the Council and student activities through a very successful year.

WOMEN'S GOVERNMENT

Just because Women's Government gave you that campus when you were sixteen minutes late last fall, don't overlook the fact that through the efforts of these same girls you now have longer hours on Saturday and Sunday nights, one o'clocks after formals and many other worthwhile improvements. This board was established here in 1949 so that a representative government could serve the best interests of all women students.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Student Council, a representative group of the various organizations on campus, meets every two weeks to formulate the rules and regulations affecting the student body. Through this representative body many student body problems are solved; many campus improvements are suggested and made. This organization is the nucleous of the school activities. This year a Student Council Social Committee was formed to plan Homecoming, the Knox-Monmouth dance and other all-school social affairs. Participating in such a council as this, students get practical experience in the democratic method of government.

STUDENT COURT

The students who wear the black robes of justice at Monmouth College reside in the Student Court. To deal with violations of college regulations, delegated by faculty to student government, this upper class court was established. The court, composed of seniors and two juniors elected each fall, has jurisdiction over such areas as dishonestly in college courses, campus regulations, conduct during chapel, library conduct and freshmen regulations.

STUDENT-FACULTY COMMITTEE

The purpose of the Student-Faculty committee is to provide a means by which faculty and students may be brought together so that they may more effectively see each other's viewpoints and may more effectively cooperate for the good of the college. Serving as a bridge between the Student Council and the faculty, this committee of students and faculty seeks to interprete the action of each of these groups to the other and to promote a spirit of understanding between the two.

MESSIAH

The annual performance of Handel's Messiah was held this year on December 2 in the college gymnasium with the chorus and orchestra under the direction of Archer Hayes. The one hundred and sixty people participating in the production ranged all the way from members of the college choir and orchestra to townsfolk who were interested enough to attend the weekly rehearsals for over a period of several months.

Soloists for the performance were Myleen Applegate, soprano; Marjorie Stormont Galloway, contralto; Howard Marsh, tenor; and Simon Oppenhuizen, bass. Edna Browning Riggs and Arthur Campbell were the piano accompanists.

PI ALPHA NU

Pi Alpha Nu, the honorary music fraternity, each year finances a music scholarship for an outstanding incoming freshman. To raise money for this scholarship the group sponsors a musical production. This year, in cooperation with Crimson Masque, they produced a new musical comedy "The Bandmaster," by Stewart Cohn and Richard Shores. This was a combination of sparkling comedy and enjoyable music. The cast was taken from members of Pi Alpha Nu and Crimson Masque and the student body.

Hoffmeister, Stewart, M. Johnson, DuBois, Hughlett, Apitz.

C.C.A. COUNCIL

The C. C. A. Council consists of members chosen from the Y. W. and Y. M. C. A. cabinets. This year the theme was "Nations and the World" and many interesting meetings were centered around this idea. These meetings do much to stimulate Christian fellowship among the students.

ICTHUS

The Christian life-service club on Monmouth College campus is Icthus. The programs of lectures, discussions and movies, and the work in the youth groups and churches of the community help the members prepare for various types of Christian work. The name and symbol of this organization refer to the early Christian symbol of Christ-Icthus — a fish.

GOSPEL TEAM

Almost every Sunday the Gospel Team represents Monmouth College in neighboring churches. In churches where there are no ministers, members of the Gospel Team present the morning service of song, prayer, worship and sermon. They also give programs for special occasions, such as College Day, in many churches.

PAN-HELLENIC COUNCIL

Important in promoting good feeling between the sororities and solving various problems such as rushing, is the Pan-Hellenic Council. Its membership is made up of three members from each sorority. This organization sponsors supervised study and the Pan-Hellenic tea for freshmen each fall.

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL

The Interfraternity Council, composed of two representatives from each fraternity, strives to promote cooperation between the fraternities on campus. Jack Feeheley was president of the council this year.

DOLPHINS

The girls who have made a big "splash" on campus belong to the Dolphin Club. This club, which is under the auspices of W. A. A., promotes swimming and swimming interests at Monmouth. Each spring Dolphin presents an annual water pageant. Ruth Sekera officiated as president this year.

The baby Dolphins, that is, those girls who have not yet fulfilled the qualifications for membership in the Dolphin Club, belong to the Polywogs. These girls also participate in the water pageant.

"Modern Moods," presented by Orchesis, was the fall program of modern dance this year. Besides the fall program an extensive spring program is given by Orchesis, the national organization on campus for those interested in modern dance.

RIFLE TEAM

The rifle team, a member of the National Rifle Association, is open to both men and women who have an ability and an interest in target shooting. Throughout the year both the men's and women's teams shoot many intercollegiate matches, most of which are postal matches.

SOCIOLOGY CLUB

Ist row: Halbert, Mrs. Sanmann, Walden, Wytanovych, Brown. 2nd row: Barrett, Calsen, Bowker, Hughlett, Dietrich, N. Forsyth. 3rd row: M. Munson, Searle, Penstone, M. Forsyth, Jacoby, Pirwitz.

If you have a sincere interest in people, you, too, have fulfilled the requirements for membership in the Sociology Club. The aims of the club are to cultivate a closer fellowship between sociology students on this campus and with similar groups on other midwest college campuses, and to deepen the appreciation of the fundamental importance of the disciplines of sociology as an aid to good citizenship and social statesmanship. The organization's monthly meetings have included movies, lectures and discussions of social problems.

FORENSIC LEAGUE

The aims of the Monmouth College Forensic League are to promote student debate, discussion and public speaking on campus and in public affairs. Operated under the advisory direction of the speech department, the Forensic League acts as the official representative of the college in all inter-collegiate off-campus speech events. The organization is open to all students interested in improving their speaking ability.

PHI ALPHA THETA

1st row: B. Black, Burmeister, Bischman, Wehmhoefer, Hughlett. 2nd row: J. Miller, Dutcher, Craggs, Dr. Davenport, Mrs. Crow, J. Camp, B. Apitz.

Beta chapter of Phi Alpha Theta, which was organized on the Monmouth campus in February 1949, is a national honorary history fraternity. This is one of the highest ranking honorary societies. The organization is open to upper classmen with a major or minor in history and who have a B average in all college work.

SIGMA OMICRON MU

Sigma Omicron Mu was founded on Monmouth campus by Dr. Goodrich, then a professor in French, in 1926. His ideal was to form an honorary scholastic fraternity for juniors and seniors who had met the grade requirements. To fulfill these requirements a student must have made a grade average of at least 3.5 four times, two of which must have been in succession. This fraternity strives for intellectual achievement. Each year, Sigma Omicron Mu sponsors a Scholarship day at which time its members tap new members.

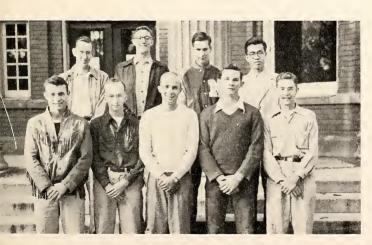

PI GAMMA PI

Ist row: Stewart, Kunde, Buhman, M. Porter, Williamson, J. Black, D. Schlemmer, Hughlett. 2nd row: Klang, Brown, Hansen, Lynn, Dixon, Brooke, Marsh, Bumb. 3rd row: Prugh, Lauer, Forsyth, Wood, Whowell, Wachsmann, Harmon, Griffin, Romine, Ralston, N. Robb, Gillis.

Pi Gamma Pi is an honorary scholastic sorority which was organized to encourage high scholarship among the girls of the freshman class. A freshman girl carrying at least twelve hours of college work may become a member if she makes an average of 3.5. Once a girl has been taken into Pi Gamma Pi, she remains a member as long as she is a Monmouth College student. Miss Eva Louise Barr founded the organization.

PHI ETA MU

The freshman men's scholastic fraternity, founded and sponsored by Dr. Hugh Beveridge, is Phi Eta Mu. To become a member a freshman boy must make a scholastic average of 3.5. Membership in this fraternity is permanent.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

To foster an interest in international relations and to promote knowledge and understanding of the problems that confront young people as citizens in the world today is the purpose of the I. R. C. This club is affiliated with similar organizations throughout the United States which were established and aided by the Carnegie Endowment. Anyone who shows an interest in social and political science and the role these sciences play in the world today is eligible for membership. Highlighting the program this year were two trips to Knox College to hear a lecture by Dr. Trueblood and to lead a discussion on the "Ethical Problems of the Atomic Bomb."

3rd row: Buchanan, Main.

The Bohemian Club is composed of students who are interested in encouraging artistic endeavors and stimulating an interest in Arts and Crafts. A studio is maintained where the members store their materials and where they may work at any time. New methods and new trends in art are discussed at meetings, and group projects are formed.

SIGMA TAU DELTA

Sandburg, Lindsay, Hemingway, Coward? No, just Whiteman, Latham, McNally, Schultz and about twenty other members of Sigma Tau Delta, a national English fraternity. Each month members read their original papers at the fraternities monthly meeting; after the reading other members criticize the paper. Keep your eyes open for the names of these people on the best sellers of the future!

One of the most essential service groups on campus is the Monmouth College chorale, for the group provides the music for daily chapel. This year the chorale, under the direction of Mr. Wayne Balch, made a choir trip to Dayton, Ohio during spring vacation. The members of the chorale did something rather unusual this year, for through various projects on campus and solicitation at home, the members raised the money for a complete set of new robes and stoles. In a special dedication service in chapel this spring, the chorale presented these robes to the college for the use of chorale.

VESPER CHOIR

The Vesper Choir appears at the monthly Vesper service and at other important religious and academic gatherings. During the annual spring tour the choir sings in high schools and churches, each year in a different section of the country, and this is considered the highlight of the year by most of the members. Students chosen for the trip are judged on the merit of their voices, ability as musicians, and their cooperation.

Each Christmas when the College music department presents the Messiah Oratorio, many of the members of the choir join with the students and townspeople in this production. The Vesper Choir helps to advance good choral music on campus and to foster good fellowship among its members.

The Choir is under the direction of Archer Hayes and its officers are: president, Robert Johnson; vice-president, Donald Steiner; secretary-treasurer, Nancy J. Dietrich; librarian, Esther Hofstetter; robe chairman, Mary Penstone.

The Monmouth College Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Arthur Campbell, keeps alive symphonic music at Monmouth. The orchestra gives two concerts annually, provides the orchestral accompaniment for Handel's Messiah, and, this year, for the musical, "The Bandmaster." In the spring concert this year, Marian Prugh was piano soloist in Shumann's Concerto for Piano in A minor.

"Strike up the music, the band will play on"—And so it has through rain and snow at football games, at half-time of the basket-ball games, and for band concerts in chapel. Yes, an essential group on campus is the college band, directed by Mr. H. Loya. Highlighting the band program this year was the "Concert in Jazz" in which Marcia McKee was featured on the saxophone and Sylvia Rulff on the piano.

CRIMSON MASQUE

Crimson Masque is made up of the students on campus who bring us the dramatic productions. This year they gave Monmouth audiences something new and different in the presentation of "Craig's Wife" with an arena style setting. Spring found the freshman play and a group of student directed one aet plays bringing the theatrical season to a successful close.

Dean Liedman, Mr. Gongwer, Olesen, Wilmot, D. Schlemmer.

NATIONAL COLLEGIATE PLAYERS

These select members of the National Collegiate Players were chosen for membership because they excelled in acting and other dramatic skills and because they met the national requirements. They strive to promote the aims of the organization by encouraging participation in dramatic performances, play writing and the study and appreciation of all phases of drama.

Ist row: Gillis, H. Ralston, Milligan, Searle, B. Williamson, M. Carlson, S. Dixon. 2nd row: Feeheley, Miss Rawley, Whowell, Kennedy, Prueh, Pizante.

BETA BETA BETA

Beta Beta Beta is the national biology fraternity on the Monmouth campus. Tri-Beta stimulates good scholarship as well as an active interest in the field of biology by bringing to the campus outstanding leaders in the field, by having the initiates present a biological project to the other members, and by organizing trips to various-places of professional interest.

AMERICAN CHEMICAL SOCIETY

The student affiliates of the A. C. S. are organized for the benefit of all chemistry students who have professional interest in the field of chemistry. Through the mutual exchange of knowledge, cooperation in projects and bringing the work of Monmouth College to the attention of prominent men in industry, education and research, members are aided in their study and future plans.

"We're the school with the loyalty, the school with the pep!" Yes, these are the girls who cheer the loudest at the games, organize pep rallies and snake dances. In short, they do all they can to promote a stronger feeling of school spirit among the members of the student body. Each fall the pep club girls tap new members; the membership is limited to twenty-five.

CHEERLEADERS

"Come on now let's all cheer!" is the constant cry of the cheerleaders as they attempt to make everyone cheer the teams to victory. At every football game and every basketball game they are always ready to give a yell for the Fighting Scots.

Each fall tryouts are held for those wishing to join the squad. Members are choosen according to the quality of cheerleading.

W. A. A.

The girls who can spike a volley ball, hit a homerun and shoot a perfect basket belong to W. A. A. The purpose of the W. A. A. is to encourage healthful recreation through participation in both individual and team sports. All women who have completed one semester's participation in a varied sports program are eligible for membership.

WOMEN'S P. E. MAJOR CLUB

This organization strives to benefit all women with a professional interest in the field of physical education. The club is a member of a national organization which has chapters throughout the country. By sponsoring discussions and speakers, the club aids in the growth of the individual and the profession.

Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. is a member of a far reaching, world wide organization and an important part of the college, providing many of its most important activities. In the fall the Y. W. and the Y. M. hold a "retreat" at Lake Youngquist in order to plan the year's program, including the various events of Freshman Week, the publication of the Red Book, and the sponsoring of Religious Emphasis Week and student chapel services. The Y.W.C.A. also promotes two style shows and an all school dance, participates in various community activities and assists foreign students.

The Greek Muse of history, Cleo, has been invocated to inspire Monmouth students with an interest in history. Cleo, the history club, was formed just last year on campus. The organization brings an outstanding lecturer to Monmouth each year. Anyone interested in history may become a member.

TAU PI

Tau Pi is a local organization which corresponds to the national organization Mortar Board. Girls who achieve the highest ideals of womanhood are taken into Tau Pi at the end of their junior year and remain active members during their senior year. Each spring Tau Pi gives a tea for outstanding freshmen women. This year the president, Marilyn Schlemmer, announced that Tau Pi will give a hundred dollar scholarship each year to a junior woman who, in the group's estimation, has done the most for Monmouth College.

S. J. Black, D. Schlemmer, Klang, McKee, Bossow, M. Schlemmer, Prugh, Mazanec, Deschwanden, J. Jackson.

Miller, Stewart, D. Schlemmer, Jackson.

PI KAPPA DELTA

Pi Kappa Delta is a national forensic fraternity, which encourages forensic activity on the campus. To be initiated, each person must have two years of speech work and must have represented Monmouth in intercollegiate forensics.

FRESHMAN TAU PI

Bonnie Peterson, a vivacious and active girl from Arlington Heights, was the winner of the 1950-51 Tau Pi Freshman Cup.

ORACLE

This year Editor-in-chief Joanne Dutcher attempted to plan and lay out the foundation for an improved ORACLE in the years to follow. Second semester the staff was composed almost entirely of underclassmen who were interested and would be here to work on next year's editions.

The sports page was given a mast head. Editorials were aimed at goals the students were interested in achieving. Cartoons appeared. Pictures were used as often as the budget allowed. Generally the ORACLE seemed to take on new life and a new spirit of a student publication.

Faced with the high costs of printing and engraving, the Ravelings this year changed printers in an effort to save money and still present a good yearbook. The Ravelings this year is different in some respects, but it still bears the resemblance of previous yearbooks. The all important aim of the staff was to get the book in your hands by the end of May and let you leisurely enjoy your Ravelings during the final exam lull.

INDEPENDENT WOMEN

Working in cooperation with the Independent Men's Association on campus, the members of the Independent Women's Association plan social activities for the women of the campus who are not affiliated with the sororities. This year they cooperated with the men in putting on the winter formal, "The Snow-Ball." In addition, the other various activities were the farm party, the skating party, the Mystery Party, the annual Christmas Party for the underprivileged children, the spring formal, teas, picnics, the "Cheese Spreads," and other informal activities. The Independent Women's Association cooperates with other organizations on campus in helping with the W. S. S. F. Drive and in W. A. A. activities.

For three years the associations of independent students on our campus have been members of the National Student's Association and have participated in the activities of the N. I. S. A. through correspondence and by sending delegates to regional and national conferences.

The president of this organization this past year has been Peg Mazanec, a Senior, under whose leader-ship this has been an active and progressive group.

"Turn Back The Hands of Time," would have made an excellent theme song for the Alpha Xi Deltas this past school year. There just didn't seem to be enough time for the many activities scheduled. It seemed as though Freshman Week was scarcely over when Homccoming loomed into sight. The hard work that the new group of pledges put in really showed that weekend when the Alpha Xi's won third place Stunt Night for the skit, Coe-Operation and when they tied for third prize with the KD's for the Homecoming float. Certainly it was a great thrill for the group when President, Joyce Klang, was crowned Homecoming Queen of 1951.

Beta Epsilon of Alpha Xi Delta is proud of the honors and achievements of their members. An Alpha Xi is President of Sigma Omicron Mu, the Y. W. C. A., of three of the dormitorics and Sociology Club. Bonnie Bossow, one of the outstanding members, is student body secretary. Other Alpha Xi's hold important offices in various campus organizations and all are working to make Monmouth a better college than ever. Special honors this year go to Margaret Johnson and Bonnie Bossow for being chosen for Who's Who In American Colleges and Universities.

After the festivities of Homecoming were past there were luncheons, Pickle Mixes, the Parents' Day Tea, Bridge and Canasta parties, and the yearly Christmas get together. One of the most outstanding activities of the 1951 social calendar was the annual Alpha Xi Moonshine Hayride. It was lots of fun - snow and all. The new year started out successfully with the Winter Formal - Starlight Rendezvous - at the beautifully decorated Elks Club. This was followed by the Initiation Banquet and in the spring the Alpha Chapter at Knox College and Beta Epsilon of Monmouth celebrated the founding of Alpha Xi Delta at the annual Founder's Day Banquet. The Spring Formal climaxed the main activities of the school year.

As the "Quill" writes of this past year, whether Seniors or Freshmen, it will be remembered as one of the most memorable years at Monmouth College.

KAPPA DELTA

Looking at the activities of Beta Gamma of Kappa Delta for this past year, it seems that the KD's of Monmouth College have continued their tradition of being vitally interested in the college and all that Monmouth has to offer.

The KD's were a proud and happy group of girls when Jane Jackson, Beta Gamma's president, came back to school in the fall bringing with her the highest award that a Kappa Delta Chapter could win—the coveted Merit Award. Beta Gamma was awarded the Merit Award trophy at the Kappa Delta National Convention held at Pasadena, California in July, 1951.

Homecoming was a joyous occasion for every loyal Scotsman. Kappa Delta joined in the festivities with her first place stunt, "A Timely Victory." The KD's also tied for third place with the Alpha Xi Delta's with our Cuckoo Clock float. They were very proud of Barbara Williamson, who represented the junior on the homecoming queen's court. That same weekend the Kappa Deltas and their fifteen pledges were hostesses to our returning alumnae at a banquet held at Hawcock's Cafe. Nancy Glennie was presented the activities award and the scholarship award was given to Ruth Marshall, who made the greatest improvement in her grades.

For the third consecutive time Kappa Delta received the Kiwanis Scholarship Plaque which was awarded to the sorority maintaining the highest scholastic average for a semester.

December brought a holiday spirit to the campus. On December 7th KD's and their escorts enjoyed themselves by dancing to the music of Dave Bauman's Orchestra at the "Holly Ball," the winter formal. Later in the month our Monmouth alumnae entertained the active chapter at a traditional Christmas tea. Also in December the KD's won first place in the Swimming Meet. In February the big initiation banquet was held in order to welcome our new members. The rest of the year was packed full of activities for the KD's and it was highlighted by the impressive spring formal given in April.

This has been only one year in the life history of Beta Gamma of Kappa Delta, but the group feels that it is a year that has formed one more link to Beta Gamma's chain of success.

Alpha of Kappa Kappa Gamma again maintained a high position among Greeks on campus as the Kappas celebrated the eighty-second anniversary of their founding at Monmouth. Kappa, Winkie Wilmot was chosen as the outstanding actress of 1951, served as Crimson Masque president, and won a place in Who's Who. Essie Jones, Sally Lansrud, Doris DuBois, and Gini Hansen represented Kappa voices in Gracie's Show, while Phyliss Clindinin rocked the audience with her humerous renditions. Wearers of the key were behind the scene too. Peg Deschwanden, Carol Bischman, and Jo Dutcher mixed paint and paper to produce props. Peg also served as the president of W. A. A., Carol lead Phi Alpha Theta, and Jo was editor-in-chief of the Oracle.

Student government offices held their share of KKG's and Kappa was also well represented in honorary societies, forensics, music, the annual water show, athletics and the numerous clubs on campus. The jun-rors, sophomores, and freshmen elected Marjorae Brown, Bonnie Peterson, and Phyliss Henry as class officers. Bonnie brought home an additional honor to the chapter when Tau Pi named her as the outstanding freshman of 1951.

Phyl Clindinin also became Pep Club prexy and pledges Joyce Neilsen, Ginger Volkmar, and Dot Jorgensen were named cheerleaders for their school spirit and pep while Sharon Lynn was choosen as president of Pi Gamma Pi for brains.

The Kappas climaxed rush with M. C.'s largest pledge class among the lady Greeks for the second consecutive year. Twenty-three new wearers of the Sigma Delta pin started on the road toward a golden key. KKG's entertained guests at their formals, teas, the spring treasure hunt, and Coffee Clutches. They also combined with Illinois Alpha of Pi Beta Phi to give the second annual Monmouth Duo Dance to commemorate the foundings of these two outstanding nationals at Monmouth. Kappas themselves enjoyed monthly Pretzel Benders. Truly the Kappa Key is busy at Monmouth.

PI BETA PHI

Illinois Alpha Chapter of Pi Beta Phi can now look back on a very successful year. Rushing began in earnest after the Pan-Hellenic tea. The formal and informal parties were climaxed on September 29th when eighteen girls were pledged to Pi Beta Phi.

Soon after pledging Homecoming came along to keep the new pledges busy. Although Homecoming day was somewhat dampened by rain, the Pi Phi's spirits were not. Margaret Ramsdale, freshman; Jane Seidel, sophomore; and Marjorie Fuller, senior were chosen to be in the Homecoming Queen's Court.

Just a few days before Homecoming, new Pep Club members were chosen. Two Pi Phis, Jane Seidel and Marilyn Speer were chosen for their "pepiness."

Mrs. Adele Alford, National 'Arrow' Editor, was the visiting officer this year. She held conferences with all the officers, the pledge class, and the active chapter. A Cookie Shine was held in her honor and the pledge class provided hilarious entertainment.

The monthly Cookie Shines were held at Holt House and the actives and pledges managed to get together for a Pi Phi Night at Marty Applegate's home. The Twelfth Night Dance on January 4th at the Elks Club was the climax of the first semester.

The second semester was taken up with basketball, Cookie Shines, teas, dances, and of course studying. Yes, Illinois Alpha had a full social and study calendar again during the year of 1951-52.

ALPHA TAU OMEGA

The Epsilon chapter of Alpha Tau Omega turned to 1951 with the determination and enthusiasm that is so characteristic of the boys from the house on the hill.

In keeping with their triumphs of previous years, the Taus captured the intra-mural championships in cross-country and swimming. Not only did the members show their interest in sports through the intra-mural program but also through varsity track, football, baseball and basketball.

One of the major interests of the fraternity is its social functions and this year was no exception. Beginning with the annual Halloween Party the Taus entertained at numerous open houses and reached their winter peak with two Christmas teas. After the Heavenly Hop the Taus began laying plans for the Valentine Dance, province convention in Indianapolis, and the Spring Formal.

Always striving for continued improvement scholastically, the Taus combined with this their many student activities. From the College Theater to student government members of the group found opportunity to further their education outside the classroom. By holding positions in student council and student court they were able to bring about many student instigated improvements.

A glance into the past as well as a brief look into the future finds achievement and pride for the "hang together Taus."

Beta Pi chapter of Theta Chi Fraternity has completed another successful year as one of the outstanding social organizations on campus. The men of the chapter brought home the first place trophy for the 1951 inter-fraternity sing under the capable direction of Bob Johnson. They also won second place in the float division of the Homecoming competition. The social life of Theta Chi began early in the fall with a successful rushing program. Following rushing were several open houses of which most outstanding were the annual Barbary Coast, the Showboat Party, and a hayride. Highlighting the social activities of the fall and winter months was the Christmas Formal — "Blue Snow." Much credit for the success of these events is due to Ron Huff, social chairman.

In keeping with the holiday spirit of goodwill, several underprivileged children were entertained and presented with gifts at a party held at the chapter house. Shortly before Christmas a faculty tea was also held.

Theta Chis were also active in varsity sports, and played an important part in the intra-mural picture.

As the group nears its one-hundredth year in the fraternity world, Theta Chi will continue to contribute toward the betterment of campus life and maintain a high position in both the eyes of the students and the faculty.

"Alma Mater first, and Theta Chi for Alma Mater."

SIGMA PHI EPSILON

The year 1951 saw Sigma Phi Epsilon more firmly establish itself among the fraternities on the Monmouth College campus. Scholarship, activities, athletics, and social events all played an important part in making 1951 a successful year for the men of Sigma Phi Epsilon. For the third time in four semesters the chapter was presented with the Kiwanis Scholarship Award. Again, as in past years, Sig Eps were active in athletics, both intramural and varsity. The first place Scotty, house decorations, stunt night, old friends—all of these made the Homecoming celebration one of the best ever enjoyed at the Sig Ep House.

Social activities were at their best as the chapter staged its annual Casino open house and Queen of Hearts Ball. In the fall and winter season, the formal, "Autumn Leaves," and the Christmas Smorgasbord highlighted the social calendar. Participation in the many varied campus activities, including honorary societies and clubs, Ravelings, Oracle, and class and student body offices, was of value to many members of Sigma Phi Epsilon.

As 1951 took its place in history, Sigma Phi Epsilon could look backward and observe the many contributions it had made which will help to make college days at old M. C. live long in the memories of so many.

TAU KAPPA EPSILON

Tau Kappa Epsilon, Monmouth's oldest national fraternity, has again experienced an outstanding year of activities. The Tekes have taken part in all phases of campus life and activity, ranging from varsity athletics to dramatics and music.

Homecoming was celebrated at the Teke in the traditional manner with buffet luncheon for alums and guests and the Fifth Quarter after the game.

There were numerous "open houses" again this year, with the high spot of these directed toward the Senior Open House in the spring. The highlight of the winter social season was The Winter Fantasy, held at the Elk's Club on November 30th. Many other social activities were held, including the All School Tea in the spring, the annual Parent's Day Dinner, and the Christmas party for the underprivileged boys of Monmouth. The very successful social year was climaxed by the gala spring formal.

The Tekes had another successful year on the intramural slate, as well as playing an important role in varsity football and basketball.

Who's Who In American Colleges and Universities certificates were presented to Richard Bruch, Jim Olesen, and Ralph Whiteman.

All of these activities and achievements can truly allow the fraters of TKE to look with pride at their record during the past year, as they continue to be "strong and successful today; stronger and more successful tomorrow."

KAPPA PHI SIGMA is the only local fraternity on the Monmouth College campus and the newest addition to "fraternity row."

Early in October of 1950 a group of young men met at the local YMCA with the idea of forming an organization practicing and based on democratic ideas and principles.

After a great deal of planning and hard work the K Phi's submitted a petition for recognition to the faculty of the college. This recognition came on May 4, 1951. From there, the organization made slow and steady advancement into the realm of fraterdom.

The "May Enchantment" spring formal culminated and climaxed the social affairs of the season. Social events were necessarily limited because of no house to call their own. However it was with a great feeling of relief and satisfaction when the K Phi's secured a home in February of 1952. Plans were immediately put into effect for active participation on Monmouth's social calendar.

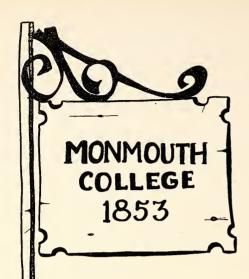

Participation in athletic events was somewhat hindered by limited membership. But in every event the Kay Phi's play the game with sportsmanship and the desire to win.

Dr. Carl Gamer has guided the fraternity over the rougher spots and has devoted much of his time by serving as faculty advisor.

The organization's belief and ideals are set forth simply in the preamble. "Realizing the need for a fraternity on Monmouth college campus that practices no discrimination in regards to race, color or creed in choosing its members we do hereby establish this social fraternity."

Another newcomer to the campus, in addition to the Kappa Phi Sigma Fraternity, is the new men's dormitory facing the athletic field.

Sports

Come on "Little Stick," score a touchdown . . . wow, Kovacs scored again . . . and . . . get a hit "Puddenhead" are all familiar sounds to the sports crowd at Monmouth. The thrill of Homecoming, the excitement of the Knox game, and the shouts of the crowd at all the other sports events are typical of the Monmouth sporting scene. Monmouth, this year as well as in years past, certainly has the right to be justly proud of the "Fighting Scots."

Monmouth 6 Knox 6

As football got under way this year the prospects were at best, dismal. But after the first four games the Scots began to look more and more like the "Cinderella" team of the year. Although picked for last by every coach in the conference, the Scot team finished in fifth place and by making the extra point in the Knox game could have finished third. The team's defense was its strong point and at the end of the year ranked twelfth in the nation in defense among small colleges. The clan has a right to be proud of these true "Fighting Scots."

Augustana

The opening game of the season was played in a steady downpour. As a result both teams were completely bogged down and the game turned into a muddy punting duel.

North Central

The Scots were again unscored upon as they rolled two touchdowns in the first and third quarters. The running of Ray Brooks and freshman Barry Frakes were big factors in the victory.

Coe

Monmouth won its first Homecoming victory in several years as they niped Coe's Hawks 7-6 on a rain soaked field. Ray Brooks scored the Scot's only touchdown with Joe Cooper adding the extra point. In the second half, however, the Coehawks put on a determined drive and managed to score, although missing the extra point. This turned out to be the deciding factor as the Scot defense stiffened and the Hawks were stopped cold.

Grinnell

This game, played in the worst weather of the season was the first to really display the Scot's power. Frew Brown, Ralph Whiteman, Ray Brooks, Bob Purlee, and freshman Irv Sellers each tallied for Monmouth. Grinnell's only score was on a kickoff runback. After this rout the prospects for a very successful season looked bright.

Carleton

The Scots left for Northfield in high spirits and returned a sadder but wiser team. Carleton's vaunted power was in high gear and the team received the full force of it. Brooks and Bruch scored for Monmouth.

Jim Schweitzer

Lawrence

The Parents' Day game began in a driving blizzard, but after the second half began, the sun shown. Lawrence-scored early in the first quarter on a pass and from there on the Scots held the conference champs on even terms. Ray Brooks was the outstanding ground gainer for both teams with a total of 70 yards on a slippery field.

Ripon

The Scots dropped their third conference game to a hard-charging Redman team. Monmouth was only the second team to score on Ripon this year but one touchdown by Ray Brooks was not enough. The Redman squad scored three times in the first half but in the second half the Scot defense really tightened and Ripon barely gained a yard.

Knox

The annual Knox game began with both teams being about evenly rated. As it turned out the two teams played the game on pretty much even terms. Knox scored first but their conversion attempt was blocked. After a long drive spearheaded by Ray Brooks and Herm Santucci, Barry Frakes plunged over.

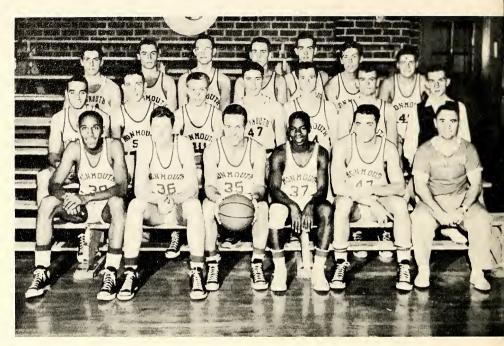

The plunge for the extra point was stopped just inches short of the goal line. Larry Gray and Laird Willson played an outstanding defensive line game as did the rest of the defensive team.

The Monmouth team, although mostly inexperienced, showed excellent spirit and will to win and, with most of the team back next year, the future looks bright indeed. First string all-conference berths went to Larry Gray on defense and Ray Brooks on offense. Laird Wilson, Tom Klug, J. T. Young and Tom Hoffman received second string all-conference defense recognition as did Joe Cooper on offense.

BASKETBALL '51-'52

This basketball season saw the Fighting Scots regain their winning form. After last season's six wins and fourteen losses this year's record of thirteen victories and seven defeats looks very good. Although picked by many of the so-called experts to finish the season far down in the conference standings, the team ended the season in fourth place, and if a few of those close games had gone the other way they would have been still higher. The climax of the season was the 56-54 overtime victory against Knox in the Knox field house.

This year Coach Bobby Woll had only four returning lettermen to work with and only one of these saw much action last season. Most of the other squad candidates were desperately lacking in experience. But despite these handicaps, Bobby did wonders with the team and they looked better in every game.

One of the main reasons for the Scot success was the fine offensive play. The team averaged 64 points a game. One of the main reasons for the fine offensive skill showed this year was Freshman Dick Kovacs of Elgin. With 350 total points Dick broke the season scoring record previously held by Don Armstrong. He also broke several free-throw records with his deadly marksmanship from the foul line. Although captain Dick Bruch was lost at mid-season, the team carried on under the leadership of acting captains Brooks, Girard, and Nimtz. The season proved to be very exciting and enjoyable for the Monmouth fans as they watched the Scots' basketball team in action.

With the freshman rule abandoned for the year, a 'B' squad was formed to give the more inexperienced men a chance to gain the self assurance necessary to develop good varsity men for the future. These men had a very successful season in the won and lost column and a valuable season in uncovering some good prospects in Dick Lewis, Phil Armknecht, Jim Asplund, Ron Boehm, and others. In these men lie the future scores of the basketball teams at M. C.

With every man on the squad returning, at least tentatively, the coming seasons look very promising. The lettermen, Brooks, McGehee, Young, Girard, Kovacs, Bruch, Nimtz, Asplund, Boehm, and Purlee should be complimented on their fine showing this year.

In addition to winning the conference basketball title, Carlton College placed three men on the All-Conference team while Monmouth, Ripon, and Cornell each placed one man on the first team. The Conference selections:

Addington (Carlton)
Lufrano (Ripon)
Kovacs (Monmouth)
Olmstead (Cornell)
Slocum (Carlton)
Rosenblum (Carlton)

The Scots also placed J. T. Young on the second team and Al Girard was given honorable mention.

CROSS COUNTRY '51

With only one letterman returning to the squad, the prospects for a successful cross country season looked pretty dim. But from the opening gun these boys were out to show they meant business. The first five men included three freshmen and a sophomore. Their only loss throughout the regular season was to Grinnell on a very rainy day when they were caught without spikes. At the Conference meet up at Chicago they finished second right on the heels of defending champion Lawrence.

The Scot swimming team again proved that they are one of M. C.'s outstanding athletic squads. This year with only three lettermen returning, Coach Jacquet, in his first year as coach, produced a team centered around the experienced men, but much of its strength was found in the underclassmen. Bill Dewey and Larry Benson continued to be outstanding in their events, the sprints and the breast stroke. Much of the team's fine showing, however, must go to the Freshmen Curt Ellingson, Bill George, and Bruce Davenport. Other key men were Jim Maplesdon, Dave and Larry Stevenson, and John Leach.

TENNIS '51

Vellenga, Kirk, Whiteman, Anderson, Huey, Bailey.

Coach Vellenga's tennis team found the going very rough again this year. Returning lettermen Anderson, Brandt, and Fenton came up against some good and tough competition and made fine showings. Newcomers Bill Huey and Bill Brown were the fourth and fifth men on the team as they went through their schedule. Although they were often beaten, they never gave up trying. This year Coach Vellenga will have an even more difficult job of rebuilding, but it is hoped that the netmen will come through with a successful season.

BASEBALL '51

1st row: Chestnut, Klug, Levine, Messmore, Bogott, Chew, Brooks, Walton, Missavage. 2nd row: Jacquet, Riggle, Fenton, Reed, Nimtz, Girard, Peterson, Kelley.

Troubled throughout the season for the need of some strong pitching support, Coach 'Jake' Jacquet's baseball team struggled through their season and performed a creditable job. Not only were the Scots handicapped in the pitching department, but they also were woefully weak at the bat on numerous occasions. Yet with all its bad points the season had its brighter side too. The double header defeat of Great Lakes was quite a surprise to many of the baseball fans. There were several thrillers that weren't decided until the last minute when a sudden break turned the tide of the game.

With Tom Feehley able to pitch only part of the season and several sore arms, the bulk of the pitching was handled by Mert Messmore with Walton, Kelly, and Riggle in support. Levine, Chew, and Scholten roamed the outfield, while Brooks, Fenton, Nimtz, Moore, and Girard manned the infield. The catcher slot was shared by Missavage, Klug, and occasionally Moore. With the return of several lettermen and several good prospects this year's team promises to better the somewhat cloudy record of last year and again show the baseball world of the baseball talents of Monmouth College.

This year the Scots have scheduled some of the baseball powerhouses of the mid-west. Their schedule will include such teams as Wisconsin University, Washington University of St. Louis, Great Lakes Naval Training Station, and Illinois Tech. of Chicago. With the return of Tom Hoffman and Ken Gould from the Marines, plus the regulars held over from last year, including Girard, Reed, Moore, Fenton, and Nimtz, the prospects for a good season this year seem quite likely. In addition to the returning lettermen Coach Jacquet is looking for a lot of good baseball from Sophomores Ron Beale, Art Benedetto, and Pete Nelson, and perhaps a surprise or two from Freshmen Allen and Kovacs.

The year of 1951 proved to be a very successful season to the cindermen. In addition to the regular dual and conference meets, they were invited to a number of larger meets. For example, they participated in the matched college mile relay in the Chicago Daily News Relays and picked up a fifth; the Purdue relays where they received a third in the sprint medley; the famous Drake Relays where they garnered two fifths in the distance and mile relays. In dual meets they were invincible as they crushed all opponents by lopsided scores. In addition to this the Flying Scots walked away with the annual Monmouth Quadrangular meet against Knox, Carthage, and Augustana. Relay meets furnished the Scots opportunities for further laurels. They finished first in the Coe Relays, second in the Beloit Relays, and fifth in the North Central Relays.

Channing Pratt and Billy Smallwood distinguished themselves in their respective fields throughout the season and in the conference meet, in which Monmouth placed second to Beloit.

Spence Fassett vaulting at conference meet.

Billy Smallwood coasts to a victory in the conference 220.

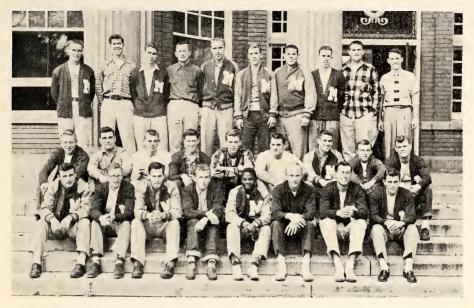

1st row: W. Keller, Asplund, D. Keller, Howell, Steiner, Brown, Maurice, Thoms, 2nd row: Robinson, Craig, Walton, McVey, Stripe, Bostwick, Nichol, Armknecht, Trotter.

FRESHMAN TRACK

The 'Baby Scots' in their first year of college track competition did quite well for themselves. Although they split even in the two meets which are alloted to them each year, they again produced a number of outstanding performers. Their feat of placing third in the annual freshman telegraphic conference meet is very promising and we will be expecting big things from these boys in the future.

This year the cindermen will be expecting big things from many of the members of the freshman squad. Tom Nichol has been picked to fill the hole left in the discus department, Dick Howell will have to make up for the loss of Chan Pratt in the hurdles, and Wayne Keller will be counted upon to add much needed strength in the dashes. Much help is also expected from Al Bostwick, Jim Asplund, and Jim Young.

M CLUB

lst row: Whiteman, Brown, Richard, Main, Brooks, Dewey, Stevenson, Benson. 2nd row: Cooper, R. Peterson, Schwiezer, Gray, Nimitz, Girard, Reed, Geiger, Purlee. 3rd row: Bruch, Trowbridge, Huey, McDonald, Trask, Ford, Moore, Guelle, Klug, Smallwood.

The M Club is an honorary organization composed of all varsity letter winners. The members of this organization provide the college with athletic abilities that make up the varsity teams of Monmouth. Throughout the year the members of the M Club take charge of the concessions at the games. With the profits taken in at the concessions a scholarship is given each year to some promising freshman athlete.

Last year as part of the year's activities the M Club sponsored a picnic for the members of the M Club and their dates. At Homecoming this past year the M Club sponsored the sale of Homecoming buttons for the student body. Various other activities occupy the time of the members of the M Club, but nevertheless they continue to carry out their thrilling exploits in the sporting world. Truly representative of the Fighting Scot tradition, the men of the M Club indeed, deserve a hearty congratulation.

The 1953 Centennial Ravelings presents to you Monmouth College of today, showing the result of one-hundred years of progress.

Monmouth College first existed as the dream of two pioneer ministers, Rev. Robert Ross and Rev. J. C. Porter. Their dream took tangible form on October 11, 1852 at a meeting of the Second Presbytery of Illinois. At that meeting a resolution was passed to establish a school and after work by the group, the Monmouth Academy was opened in November of 1853 with 21 students enrolled.

Two years later there came the proposal to make the school of college rank. Necessary arrangements were completed on September 3, 1856, the college was opened officially, with Rev. David A. Wallace as president and a faculty composed of two members. That fall the college moved into its new building, located in the northwest part of Monmouth. That building served as the nucleus of the college until 1863, when the center of activities was moved to the building which became known as "Old Main" on the present campus site.

Rev. Wallace was the first of five presidents who have served Monmouth. When he resigned in 1878, his successor was Rev. J. B. McMichael, D.D., who continued as president until January, 1897. He was followed by Rev. Samuel R. Lyons, D.D., who administered the affairs of the college for five years. Then followed the thirty-three year administration of Dr. T. H. McMichael, whose father had been the second president of the college. Upon his resignation in 1936 the present leader, Dr. James H. Grier, assumed the president's chair.

The modern physical plant of Monmouth College has been acquired slowly over the years. "Old Main" was occupied on May 12, 1863, and it continued to be the heart of the college until it was destroyed by fire in 1907.

Although the auditorium was erected and dedicated ten years earlier, on June 3, 1897, it was at the time of the burning of "Old Main" that the real physical growth of the college began, under the guidance of Dr. T. H. McMichael, and with the loyal assistance of the college backers.

The library building, made possible by Andrew Carnegie, was begun in the spring of 1907, and was under cover when "Old Main" burned. Thus it served as the main campus building until Wallace Hall in 1908 and J. B. McMichael Science Hall in 1909 joined it, the three becoming the main academic buildings, just as they are today.

The women's dormitory system was begun in 1914 with the completion of T. H. McMichael Home. It was followed by "Sunnyside," now East Hall, in 1940, and Alice Winbigler Hall in 1946.

Then there is the modern gymnasium, erected in 1924, and the fine arts building, acquired in 1941. "The Terrace," built in 1885, was the first president's home, followed by "The Woodbine" in 1915 and "The Manor" in 1949.

Today Monmouth College stands at the crossroads of its first century of service to the youth of America. Although by choice Monmouth will always be a small college, her aim is to continue the growth which has been so continuous throughout the years.

Established in 1835, Monmouth Academy transfered its office to this building in 1856. Still in existance, it remains a reminder of former Monmouth College days.

In 1863 "Old Main" was established as the major college building. Pictured here is "Old Main" at the time it was destroyed by fire in November of 1907.

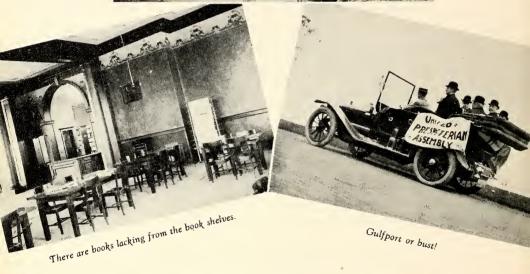

Wallace Hall, the present class building was occupied in 1908. Its halls echo now with the mingling voices of professors and students, ready laughter, and the steady shuffle of many feet.
